Briefly

Aid to be topic here Saturday

Project Cleanup will sponsor an appearance by a representative of the Illinois Department of Public Aid this Saturday at 10 a.m. at the New Salem Missionary Baptist Church, 1349 Klein St., Venice.

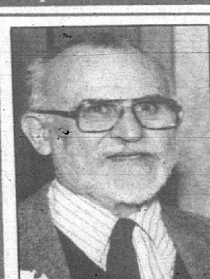

Ed McCalley of the Chicago office of Public Aid will discuss the medical green card, potential cuts in Public Aid, availability of food stamps and related issues.

For information, persons may contact the Rev. John Henry Williams, Project Cleanup chairman, or the Rev. O.V. Carter, founder and president of Project Cleanup.

Photo display to honor servicemen

Wallet-size color photographs of men and women serving in the armed forces will be displayed in the City Hall lobby in Granite City. Mayor Von-Dee Cruise, Granite City Ambassadors and the Youth Achievement Day Committee are asking that pictures of those in uniform be sent or taken to the mayor's office. Each is to include the name, rank, military organization and Granite City telephone number.

Tip of the hat

Henry Helrich of Granite City has been named a core-cipient of the Kimmel Community Service Award in the Youth Category. He received the award in recognition of his work with the Boy Scouts and with handicapped youth. The awards, sponsored by Southern Illinois University and the Belleville News-Democrat, are given annually to persons who exemplify the dedication to volunteerism exemplified by Carol Kimmel, a former SIU trustee.

Death in fire called murder

GRANITE CITY — A Jonesboro, Ark., man was found dead Monday in his pickup truck after it had been set afire. Authorities said it appears to be the city's first homicide of 1991.

Lester Raymond Brewer, 55, was found in his truck on a parking lot in front of his daughter's residence in the 4700 block of Kirkpatrick Homes at approximately 8:15 a.m. Monday.

An autopsy was performed that day, but Madison County Coroner Dallas Burke said the cause of death is being withheld. Burke said Brewer sustained some burns to his face and head.

Assistant Police Chief Ron Selph said Tuesday that details are still being worked out, but, based on autopsy results and other evidence, the death is considered a homicide.

Selph also said the fire had been ruled to be arson.

"We have several suspects in the case and are continuing to investigate," he said. Selph said no suspects were in custody.

Brewer was pronounced dead at the scene at 8:55 a.m. Monday by Special Investigator Roger Smith of the Madison County Coroner's Office.

According to a police report, Brewer was found lying on his left side in his brown and yellow GMC Sierra Grande pickup, with burns to his body. The report said a burned piece of cloth was found sticking out of the truck's gasoline tank.

Upon officers' arrival, an ambulance crew already on the scene informed them Brewer was deceased.

2 charged with murdering women

By David G. Wrona
Staff writer

ST. LOUIS — Second-degree murder charges were filed Monday against two men accused of sexually assaulting two North County women last week, before forcing both victims into the Mississippi River.

The two men, Marlin Gray, 23, of Juno Drive in Wentzville, and 19-year-old Reginald Clemons, of the 6000 block of Barken Avenue, Northwoods, are accused of either throwing or forcing 19-year-old Robin Kerry and her sister, Julie Kerry, 20, off the old Chain of Rocks Bridge, after sexually assaulting the women early last Friday.

"We have statements from the two adults (Gray and Clemons) in which they indicated it started as a robbery and escalated into a sexual assault," said Lt. Steve Jacobsmeier, deputy commander of the St. Louis Police Department's Crimes Against Persons unit. "When the girls resisted, one of them was punched and fell into the river; the other one continued to fight and she was picked up and thrown in."

In addition to the murder charges, Gray and Clemons were each charged with rape, robbery and felonious restraint, authorities said. Both men were arrested Sunday and are being held in lieu of $200,000 bond in the St. Louis City Jail, authorities said.

A 15-year-old boy also was taken into custody Monday in connection with the crimes, and charges against him were pending Tuesday, authorities said. A cousin of the women, 19- (See CHARGED, Page 10A)

Women of Achievement to be announced April 17

By Jean Abernathy
Correspondent

The Suburban Journals and KMOX Radio will announce the 10 1990 Women of Achievement in the April 17 edition of the Journal. A short sketch of each woman selected will be included on a special page that pays tribute to the Women of Achievement.

These outstanding women, who serve as role models to all in the community, will join the ranks of 351 Women of Achievement who have been honored since the program's inception 35 years ago.

The many "women of achievement" in the community is evidenced by the more than 700 letters of nomination received. A committee of community leaders from all parts of the metropolis (See WOMEN, Page 10A)

Incorporation may force budget cuts

EDWARDSVILLE — The Godfrey incorporation may bring budget cuts and fewer services in Madison County, one county official said.

"I'm not saying what service areas may be cut, because we haven't looked at those yet," Auditor Fred Batton said.

"It's too early to tell what's going to happen. It's certainly not going to have a positive impact on Madison County."

The county will lose as much as $1.3 million in sales and state income tax a year. But as much as $750,000 to $900,000 of that will come back if the Sheriff's Department continues to provide service to Godfrey.

Still, officials said, that money will go only to the Sheriff's Department.

The sales tax and the state income tax will come out of the county's general fund, Batton said. The fund is used to operate 30 county offices, including the Sheriff's Department, the state's attorney's office and the treasurer's office.

Beautiful babies: Infants get chance at healthy start

By Bonita Tillman
Staff writer

EAST ST. LOUIS — The death of a baby affects even strangers. Everyone shares the feeling that a child's death is unnatural.

The Illinois Department of Public Health has instituted a program to curb the infant mortality rate in the state. "Beautiful Babies... Right from the Start" provides an incentive for expectant mothers to seek early medical care.

Expectant mothers are given a free book that provides information on what help doctors can provide, what progress to expect in their child's development, where to obtain help, and information for child services and other sources of assistance.

Coupons for basic infant needs — car seats, clothes, toys, vitamins, food and other items — also are in the book. A $250 gift certificate in the book must be validated by a doctor before expectant mothers can redeem them. The book, geared to different regions, will be available to residents who call 1-800-545-2200, a toll-free number, after April 5.

Failing to visit a doctor during pregnancy can cause low birth weight in infants and premature births. That can mean more health care expenses later, because low birth weight babies are more susceptible to disease and have a greater chance of educational and physical development problems later.

"The chance of having permanent physical and mental limitations are much more enhanced with low birth weight," said Pamela Locklin, IDPH public information officer.

The problem is even greater in the black community. Public health care centers offer free prenatal care, but no one can take care of low birth weight babies compared to $896 for proper prenatal care, Locklin said. "In Illinois alone, 13,900 low birth weight babies are born each year."

"If expectant mothers would get early treatment for high blood pressure, anemia and sexually transmitted diseases and get advice on diet, it could make a world of difference."

In 1985, 24 of every 1,000 babies in Boston died within the first year of birth," said Gina Powers, project supervisor at Wishnow Corp., the agency which created the program in the U.S. "That's on par with third world countries. We found the problem is that women are not seeking prenatal care."

In Illinois, 11.2 percent of every 1,000 babies born in 1989 died within the first year of birth. The infant mortality rate in Washington, D.C., dropped from 24 to 19.6 per 1,000 births in the first year of the program alone.

"We're just striving to lower the low birth weight so babies can be born strong and have a better chance to survive. That's our goal," Locklin said.

Illegal gambling still going strong

First of a series

Each year millions of dollars in illegal bets slide through the money slots of hundreds of video gambling machines in Madison County.

Nightly, people line up to play video poker, illegally betting they'll beat the electronic odds.

The Illinois Coin Machine Operators Association, which represents people who distribute and service the poker machines, claims between $770 million and $1 billion is being wagered annually in violation of state law.

"Unaccounted for cash is trouble," Madison County State's Attorney William Haine said. "Somebody would like to control that cash. Right now, it's just trouble."

Illinois law states that promoting video gambling by paying off winners is a felony. Putting a video poker machine in a business for gambling purposes is also illegal. It is not illegal to have the machines as long as there is no payoff. That leads to a gray area, often cited by law enforcement and industry people.

Despite the law, gambling goes on in almost every tavern and fraternal organization in the area. And it is virtually ignored by local and state authorities, law enforcement officials conceded.

"We'd rather work on serious problems," Alton Police Chief Dennis Downey said. Gambling is an extremely low priority with the Police Department.

Politicians, police officers and prosecutors argued they don't have the resources or the inclination to enforce existing laws.

"It's a matter of prioritization," said Lt. Larry Trent, a spokesman for the Illinois State Police Department of Criminal Investigation. "I don't think we are going to argue there is an undeniable amount of gambling statutes not high on his list of priorities either — but for a different reason."

"The mother of gambling is the state of Illinois; it is hypocrisy on a grand scale," Haine said. (See GAMBLING, Page 10A)

Hooray! Second Guessing Time For Cardinals Fans

It has become something of a yearly tradition around these parts for this highly mobile bureau to reveal, on Opening Day of the baseball season, the precise order in which the major league teams will finish the year.

Many readers cherish these annual baseball predictions. They clip the column from the paper, using blunt-nosed scissors, and attach the clipping to their refrigerators. Come October, they stuff the clipping into an envelope and mail it to me, along with warm personal messages written in red-erayon. Messages like, "Nice try, Lardhead."

I treasure these letters because they show the deep communal spirit we in St. Louis feel for the sports of baseball and angry mail. I do not take the criticism personally because, after all, I am usually right. Well, sometimes right. Well, occasionally right. Well, I was right once. Or at least pretty close.

Predicting the order of finish is a fool's mission, which means we've got the right guy for this mission. Injuries—Joe Mauer's, for example—and jerk players—Barry Bonds and Ricky Henderson, for example—make it all the more difficult. Nevertheless, get those blunt scissors and red crayons ready.

National League East: 1. Cubs, 2. Mets, 3. Expos, 4. Cards, 5. Phils, 6. Barry Bonds' team.

Yes, the Cubs will win the East this year, providing the left-handed starter they bought, Danny Jackson, can win 15 games and providing the left fielder they bought, George Bell, doesn't get killed by a fly ball.

Bell would be the worst fielder in the division if the New York Mets hadn't moved Howard Johnson to shortstop. If the Mets get close, look for them to make a trade for Ozzie Smith. Wouldn't that be great, Ozzie as a Met?

The Expos will be third only because they're not quite as young as the Cards and not as old as the Phils. The Cards could surprise if Ray Lardhead and Bernard Mikey and Felix Jose all get out in the outfield, if Todd Zeile pans out at third, if Fredbird wins 20 games and if they trade Rex Hudler to Sea World for Shamu, another great diver. Too many ifs.

National League West: 1. Dodgers, 2. Giants, 3. Reds, 4. Field horses.

Darryl Strawberry has found Jesus in L.A., which is a curious place to find him, though nothing is impossible with the Lord. Between Jesus and Tommy Lasorda, Darryl will have all the motivation he needs. He will be the League's MVP.

The Giants will score plenty of runs but not as many as their pitching will give up. The Reds won't repeat because nobody repeats any more except the A's.

American League East: 1. Boston, 2. Toronto, 3. Field horses. This division has more mediocre teams than any division but the NL East, where all the teams are mediocre. Boston should win because Jack Clark should be fearsome in Fenway Park, although he'll probably accuse Roger Clemens of being a selfish player, as he did Tony Gwynn in San Diego and Ozzie Smith in St. Louis. That wouldn't be all bad because a fight between Clark and Clemens would be a lot more interesting than say, Evander Holyfield vs. George Foreman.

Toronto won't win because they never do; if God wanted a Canadian team to win, he wouldn't have invented hockey.

American League West: 1. Oakland, 2. Kansas City, 3. California, 4. Chicago, 5. Seattle, 6. Texas, 7. Los Angeles, 8. Field horses. Oakland will win because the Haas family, which owns Levi Strauss and the A's, will raise the price of blue jeans so they can make Ricky Henderson happy. Baseball fans everywhere thus have another reason beside those stupid Dockers commercials to boycott Levi's.

Kansas City should be better for the loss of Bo Jackson. Bo knew distraction. Also the Royals are the closest thing St. Louis will have to a pennant contender this year so we should root for them.

California is still trying to win a pennant for beloved owner Gene Autry, who is running out of years. It won't be this year; more's the pity. Something's wrong with a world where teams owned by Marge Schott and George Steinbrenner win pennants but Gene Autry doesn't.

The White Sox have cool new uniforms and a cool new stadium but that's about all. It's more than the Rangers, Twins and Mariners have but it's still not enough.

There you have it. Clean off a spot on the fridge.

What's New Coming In Your Journal

Nominate your neighbor

The Community Pride Committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce and the Press-Record/Journal are sponsoring a new Home Pride Award, intended to honor those who take care of their property. The first honors will be bestowed in May. Read Dennis Grubbaugh's column Thursday to find out how you can honor your neighbor.

Problems on the bridge

The tragic death of two young women on the Old Chain of Rocks Bridge spells a headache for local officials who have tried for years to keep people off the site. See Thursday's Press-Record.

Jail turning away some weekend prisoners

EDWARDSVILLE — Some weekend prisoners are being turned away at the Madison County Jail because of overcrowding.

About 10 people scheduled to spend the weekend of March 30-31 in jail as part of their probation sentences were told to come back another time, according to Lt. James E. Newsome, jail superintendent.

For several weeks, weekend prisoners have been freed on Saturday night and told to come back Sunday morning because of overcrowding, Sheriff Bob Churchill said.

But those who showed up Saturday morning signed in and were sent home, he said. They were told they would be notified to report back when space was available.

Churchill said the county probation department knew about the situation and did not object. Weekend prisoners generally have been convicted of misdemeanors.

A jail inspection report released last week by the Illinois Department of Corrections said overcrowding is placing "undue pressure" on the jail staff to properly supervise routine activities.

The report also criticized putting prisoners charged with minor offenses in the same cell-blocks with accused felons.

The 10-year-old jail has a capacity of 180, but the prisoner count has frequently exceeded that in recent months. The population stood at 184 on Thursday, Churchill said.

Chief Criminal Court Judge Edward Ferguson said the overcrowding has an influence on judges' decisions regarding bail.

"We are taking into account the fact that the jail is overcrowded," he said. "In a close situation, we may be more likely to reduce a bond than if we had more space available."

Ferguson said he doubted any judge would be more lenient toward a suspect charged with one of the more serious felony offenses.

"I'm never going to let someone out who ought to be in jail because of insufficient space," the judge said. He said it was the county's obligation to provide the necessary space.

"If we have to send people to (a jail in) another county, Madison County will have to pay for it," Ferguson said.

He said he was trying to eliminate unnecessary delays in trials and sentencing to help ease the overcrowding.

Law enforcement leaders study hate crimes

Illinois and Missouri law enforcement leaders attended a two-day Anti-Hate Crime Conference at Pere Marquette State Park in Grafton, Ill., March 25-26.

Executive Director Al Apa of the Illinois Police Training Board and Director David Cullen of the Illinois Criminal Justice Authority were featured speakers.

Members of the Anti-Defamation League's "A-Team" cadre from New York City and Los Angeles were brought in by the Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission and Greater St. Louis Police Academy to conduct this training.

Fifty law enforcement leaders from more than 30 law enforcement agencies were in attendance.

Chief Charles McDonald of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Police Department, chairman of the Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission/ASSIST 14 Advisory Board, said, "Hate crimes are an intolerable offense against the American way of life."

"Law enforcement leaders in Southern Illinois are going to work very hard to ensure that their officers are sensitized to cultural differences and that fair and just law enforcement is the rule of the day."

City police file cannabis charge

Harold Carl Stanton, 25, of the 700 block of North 26th Street was charged with unlawful possession of cannabis at 11 p.m. April 5.

Stanton was one of five people seen standing in a semi-circle, passing a lighted cigarette at the rear of a tavern parking lot in the 900 block of Niedringhaus Avenue.

When an officer approached the group, he smelled cannabis and alleged seeing Stanton inhale the cigarette, which the officer confiscated.

The others were released at the scene and Stanton was booked and then freed on a notice to appear for a hearing.

Charged with loitering

Eugene L. McIntosh, 20, of Fontainebleau Drive, Pontoon Beach, was served a Wood River warrant here April 5 alleging failure to appear on a charge of loitering. He was released on $52 bail.

Glove box burglarized

A key appeared to be the only item missing from the glove box in a burglary of a parked auto belonging to Bryan Ballard of the 2400 block of State Street, he reported April 5.

Stolen items located

A video cassette player valued at $150 and 19 magazines worth $50, taken in the burglary of a car owned by Kyle Tarpo of Terrace Avenue were found in bushes at the residence of a neighbor and were turned over to police April 5. Tarpo said his car was parked in the driveway at his home when the burglary occurred.

Rings and VCR missing

Rhonda K. Tipler of the 2500 block of Washington Avenue

Granite City

arrived home April 5 and found the front door and a window partly open and the residence burglarized. Missing were a video cassette recorder valued at $250, a crystal clock worth $100, a gold uncut ring worth $100, a Black Hills gold and diamond ring valued at $100 and a diamond solitaire ring.

Jail term for contempt

Allen S. Hozian, 19, of the 1500 block of State Street appeared before Judge Robert Hennessey on April 5 for failure to appear in court previously on seven different charges. Hozian was found guilty of contempt and was sentenced to 60 days in the Madison County Jail.

Radar receiver taken

An auto burglar broke a window of an auto owned by James Fuhrman of the 1800 block of Spring Avenue on April 5 and stole a radar receiver valued at $274. The burglar used a rock to break the window and also damaged a rearview mirror and broke the car's windshield.

Charged in local theft

Everett Wilson Johnson Jr., 22, of Alton was served a Granite City warrant while he was in the custody of the Springfield, Ill., Police Department at 1:27 a.m. March 29. The local warrant alleged failure to appear on charges of retail theft and possession of an altered driver's license. Johnson was taken to the Sangamon County Jail, where he posted bail.

Threat to police alleged

Carlton J. Turner, 21, of the 2100 block of State Street allegedly threatened a police officer at 7:20 p.m. March 23 as the officer was standing by while Connie Turner, wife of Carlton Turner, collected her children from the State Street address. Charged with assault, he was released on $25 cash bail.

Tools, speakers gone

Dennis L. Culver, 24, of the 2200 block of Washington Avenue told police of the theft of a tool box containing tools valued at $250, a one and one-half ton hydraulic jack worth $50, two Alpine stereo speakers valued at $150 and jumper cables worth $25. The items were taken from his station wagon while it was parked in his driveway early on March 25.

AIDS growing in St. Clair County

By Martin Richter
Staff writer

BELLEVILLE — Reported cases of AIDS continued to increase sharply in St. Clair County during 1990, according to statistics released by the county Health Department.

There were 21 new cases of AIDS reported in St. Clair County during 1990, bringing to 59 the total number of cases reported since reporting began in 1981.

The number of reported cases of acquired immune deficiency syndrome here has nearly tripled in the last three years; there were as many new cases reported last year as in the first seven years the cases were reported. There were 17 new cases reported here in 1989.

"Over the three years we've been in operation, we've seen a gradual increase, but in '91 it seems to be increasing rapidly," said Case Manager Sister Carol Baltosiewicz of Bethany Place, a Belleville-based agency for AIDS patients. "Right now we're able to handle it, but there are days when it gets to be too much."

What makes the numbers even more scary is that they represent only a fraction of the people in this area who actually have AIDS, said Dr. Carla Samson, chairman of the St. Clair County Task Force on AIDS.

"You've got a lot of infected people out there who aren't going to come forward—until they're close to death," she said.

Those who are HIV positive but do not have AIDS are not included in the statistics.

Samson added that there also is a significant number of AIDS patients who are diagnosed in other states, then come home to be with their families. Those patients also would not be counted in local statistics.

Baltosiewicz said as many as 90 percent of the AIDS patients seen at Bethany Place take part in this "back migration."

St. Clair County is now ranked fifth in the state in the number of AIDS cases, and first among counties outside the Chicago area. While the number of reported AIDS cases statewide increased at the lowest annual percentage since the state began collecting statistics on the disease, St. Clair County is continuing to report a rapid increase.

Health Promotion Coordinator Larry W. McCulley of the St. Clair County Health Department said cases of AIDS have been spread evenly across the county.

"We do know that right now it's pretty sporadic," he said. "There's no one community where it's a lot worse."

Home Week essay contest announced

All students in seventh and eighth grades are invited to enter an American Home Week essay contest conducted by the Edwardsville-Collinsville Board of Realtors, Marlene Mudge, board president, announced.

According to Mudge, the contest theme for this year's contest is "My Favorite Neighbor."

Entrants are asked to interpret this topic in 750 words or less. Individuals are asked to write about an Illinois resident who exhibits the characteristics of a neighbor who demonstrates pride for the property and neighborhood in which they reside and spirit for community involvement, in addition to other attributes of good citizenship.

The contest is held in conjunction with American Home Week, April 14-20, an annual event sponsored by the Illinois Association of Realtors statewide.

Three winners will be selected. First prize will be a $100 savings bond, second prize a $75 savings bond, and third prize a $50 savings bond.

Rules for the contest are being publicized in area schools.

Seven area taverns may lose licenses

By Jpe Carroll
Correspondent

SPRINGFIELD—Seven area taverns will have their liquor licenses revoked within the next two weeks for failure to pay back taxes, a spokesman for the Illinois Department of Revenue said.

Revocation orders were mailed out Friday, one day after hearings before the State Liquor Commission.

It usually takes about two weeks for those orders to reach local liquor authorities, which are responsible for shutting down unlicensed establishments, said Kevin Johnson, a Revenue spokesman.

"If they come to us before the order is actually served and make arrangements to pay what they owe us, then we'll work something out," Johnson said.

"But there is no way (tavern owners) are going to get out of paying this money."

Roger Indermark, owner of the Rumble Seat Lounge in Collinsville, owes the state an estimated $6,700, Johnson said. Exact figures for the amounts owed are not available, Johnson said, because the offending establishments have failed to turn receipts over to the Department of Revenue for the period of time in question.

The owners of the Oltimer Inn in Belleville owe an estimated $5,800. They quit paying their share of sales taxes last October, Johnson said.

Ronnie's Pub, also in Belleville, owes the state about $2,400, Johnson said.

Once a liquor license is revoked, that individual or business is prohibited from ever obtaining one again, Revenue Director Doug Whitley said in a written statement.

Without a license, establishments are prohibited from selling liquor. In most cases, the local liquor commissioner, upon receiving a revocation order from the state, orders the business closed and padlocks it shut.

None of the tavern owners could be reached for comment.

Other area taverns targeted include: Hickory Dickory Dock in Collinsville, $1,290; Beard's Tavern in East St. Louis, $2,090; and the A&R Lounge in East St. Louis, $600.

None of the owners or their attorneys were present at Thursday's hearing before the commission.

Sears offers assistance to families in military

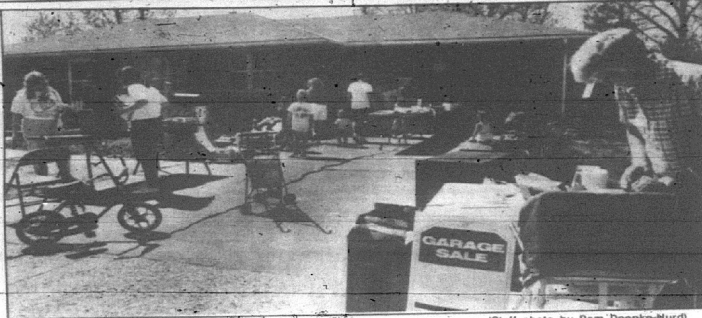

The Sears store at St. Clair Square in Fairview Heights is offering special assistance programs to help military families affected by the Persian Gulf conflict, and extended the programs to all active duty U.S. military personnel, it was announced last week.

Since the activation of military personnel for the Gulf conflict, Sears has waived all finance charges and monthly payments on SearsCharge purchases made by military personnel prior to their activation.

"Some military families suffered financial hardship because of the conflict, and the Sears family of employees wants to help them," said Roger Hertz, Sears general store manager.

He also announced that all active duty military personnel and all activated national guard members and reservists can receive the following discounts, free products and services from the Sears store at St. Clair Square for 30 days, beginning the day they sign up for a special Sears Family Appreciation Card at the store's customer convenience center:

— A free full-color, five-by-seven family portrait and five wallet-size photographs taken at the Sears photo studio; — A free 12-point safety inspection for the family's car; — A free oil change for one car, including an oil filter and chassis lubrication. An appointment is recommended, but not required.

SPRING IS IN THE AIR: With spring here the yard sales begin. At far right, Jean Parks counts money that the sale has made for the youth group at her church, Suburban Baptist of Granite City, to go on a summer trip to Colorado Springs in June.

Woman pleads guilty in escape

A 24-year-old St. Louis woman pleaded guilty Friday to helping a fellow inmate escape by giving the inmate her identification bracelet.

Marnice McElroy, of 3140 Brantner, was in the St. Clair County Jail on misdemeanor charges Feb. 24 when she gave her jail bracelet to Rose Whiting, court records show.

Whiting, who is still at large, walked out of the jail after a friend of hers asked for Whiting using McElroy's name, paid McElroy's bond and had Whiting released.

Whiting was in jail at the time on misdemeanor theft charges, records show.

Free prostate screening here

April is Cancer Awareness Month and St. Elizabeth Medical Center, 2100 Madison Ave., is offering its fifth annual free prostate screening to all men over the age of 50.

The screening will be Saturday, April 27, from 9 a.m. to noon in the Surgette Center (first floor, Binney wing). No pre-registration is required.

"This year we are pleased to be able to offer a free PSA blood test as part of our screening," said screening coordinator Kathy Haarmann, patient education coordinator in SEMC's Education Resources Department. "This test is helpful in the early detection of prostate cancer."

The prostate gland is a doughnut-shaped organ located at the base of the bladder in males. As a normal part of the aging process, all men over the age of 50 will experience some prostate problems. These problems can include benign enlargement, infection or cancer.

Cancer of the prostate is the third most common cause of death among men 55-74 and the second leading cause in men over 75. The American Cancer Society predicts there will be 25,000 deaths due to prostate cancer this year. Early diagnosis is crucial for effective therapy and cure.

The screening will include examinations by a urologist, the PSA blood test, urine testing, and ultrasound exams. Information to help insure a healthy future will be available, and refreshments will be served.

For further information on the prostate screening, 798-3201 can be called.

Equestrians ready for show

By Liz Quirin
Staff writer

A hobby, a way of life or a dream come true: it's a horse, of course.

And there's a horse show in the offing for horse owners and those who have succumbed to horse mania or horse obsession.

The Lincoln Trail Riders Club is sponsoring a horse show for members and non-members April 14 at its arena on Scott-Troy Road north of U.S. 50 east of O'Fallon.

It's a fun show, open to all breeds, said club member Lynn Hasselhorst, 37, of Trenton.

People who train, groom and ride their own horses can enter them into one of 13 classes to be judged. The public is also welcome.

Some classes are more "showy" contests for the horses," Hasselhorst said.

Those are the halter classes, but there are performance and speed classes as well.

Jackie Lemons, 24, of Lebanon has organized the April show. While this is the first time the club has put on a show in April, Lemons is confident horse lovers will come out for the show.

"We'll have at least 20-25 entries," Lemons said.

Those interested in participating in the show can register only on the day of the event. The show begins at 1 p.m.

Participating is just part of the fun of owning a horse, Hasselhorst said. Owning a horse was a childhood dream for each of the two women.

Lemons didn't grow up with horses or know much about them except that she loved to ride. "I rode friends' horses, but never had one of my own," Lemons said. But when she met Gold Dust, her love took the shape of a four-legged Palomino gelding quarter horse.

"The most exciting thing about owning him is that he's all mine. I don't have to share him," Lemons said. Hasselhorst said she had a horse briefly as a child and has owned horses for the last seven years.

Owning and working with the horses — she has five — can become an obsession.

"This is not just a hobby to do a few times a year," Hasselhorst said. "I've had my own barn four years. I'm still not tired of cleaning stalls."

While cleaning the stalls is not her 14-year-old son Michael's favorite pastime, he is willing to do the work because of Azet, an 11-year-old Arabian mare Michael rides and will show on the 14th.

Lemons rides English style, wearing jodhpurs, jacket and helmet, while Michael rides western style with cowboy boots and Stetson.

These expenses can really add up, Hasselhorst said.

"Everyone has to have another job if they have a horse," she said.

With a rapid-fire list of horse needs, Hasselhorst and Lemons noted: $30 a month to feed a horse, $40 every eight weeks for horseshoes, as much as $150 per month for boarding, and many unexpected expenses, including horse calls from the dentist.

But just having a horse makes all the money spent and the time invested worthwhile to them, they said.

Crackdown on car price data

By Joe Carroll
Correspondent

SPRINGFIELD— Illinois Attorney General Roland Burris will be putting the brakes on car dealers who engage in misleading advertising.

Most local dealers declined to discuss how the new regulations which outlaw ads that hide extra charges in small print, will affect them.

"Unscrupulous dealers are a small fraction of all dealers," Burris said Thursday. "But they give all dealers a bad name."

As of June 1, new and used car and truck dealers can no longer "unbundle" destination and freight charges from the total purchase price of the vehicle in radio, television and newspaper ads, Burris said.

Prices quoted in ads must reflect actual sticker prices on the dealer's lot, he said.

In addition, repayment schedules must appear in ads that tout low monthly payments. And large down-payments cannot be buried in fine print.

Copies of the new regulations will be sent out to the nearly 3,000 new and used car dealers across the state in a few days, a Burris aide said.

The Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division will begin monitoring ads June 1.

Burris said. The announcement was made in a parking garage beneath the attorney general's office.

Dealers who ignore the regulations could be liable for penalties of as much as $50,000 per violation.

Most area car dealers contacted Friday morning declined to talk about the new regulations or about their own advertising practices.

But Dale Luetkenyer, general sales manager at Auffenberg Ford in Belleville, said the regulations would help "clean up" dealer ads. Luetkenyer said he called a special staff meeting Friday morning to discuss the new rules.

"We're big-time in favor of this," he said. "I'll be interesting to see what happens because there are some less-than-honest dealers in this area."

In the three months since he has taken office, Burris said, he has heard more complaints from consumers about car dealers than any other industry.

Just the other day I was in the barber shop and there were three other people in there and every one of them had a complaint about a car dealer," Burris said.

The only items dealers will be allowed to exclude from an advertised price will be taxes, title and license fees, and a service or "docking" fee of not more than $40.

The sales tax on a new car is 6 1/2 percent. Local dealers said title and license fees usually total anywhere from $55 to $70, depending on the dealership, while docking fees range from $10 to $30.

Burris said his office worked with the Illinois New Car & Truck Dealers Association in coming up with the regulations. The association represents 1,200 auto dealers statewide, most of them in the Chicago area.

Burris said he expects most dealers to comply.

"Us working together sends a very strong message to unscrupulous dealers out there," Burris said of the association's cooperation with the attorney general's office. "This (June 1) deadline should serve as a warning."

BAC program recruiting companions for seniors

By Jim Haverstick
Staff writer

Belleville Area College's Programs and Services for Older Persons' Senior Companion Program is recruiting companions to help keep home-bound senior citizens company during the week.

Companions are needed in Belleville, Cahokia, Duplo and Madison County, said Carol Hudak, director of the program.

Companions work four hours a day, one to five days a week, offering support and companionship to lonely or home-bound senior citizens. Also, companions offer respite to care givers and act as a liaison between senior service organizations and home-bound senior citizens, she said.

In recent years the program has been expanded to offer companionship to chronically ill or disabled citizens of all ages, Hudak added.

Anyone 60 years or older and in the low income bracket can volunteer to be a companion. The federal government defines low income as a single person earning less than $7,850 per year or a couple earning less than $10,525 per year.

Hudak stressed that the senior companion program is not like the visiting nurse program. Companions are not medically or psychologically trained care givers for senior citizens.

Companions do, however, receive 40 hours of training from the state on how to deal with the unique problems of senior citizens and emergency situations.

Help for last-minute income tax filers

The Illinois Department of Revenue once again is extending its hours to assist taxpayers flustered with the April 15 filing deadline.

Persons who need assistance with their state income tax returns can call a toll-free phone number or visit any Department of Revenue office. The toll-free tax assistance number is 1-800-732-8866. Help can also be obtained by calling PSOP at 234-4410 extension 28.

Hudak will be traveling to Washington, D.C. later this month to attend a national meeting of Senior Companion Program directors and will be attempting to garnish more funds for the program.

To apply for the Senior Companion Program contact Carol Hudak by calling PSOP at 234-4410 extension 28.

Summerstage presents musical

Summerstage Inc., Granite City's community theater company, will present the musical comedy — "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown" — on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, April 12, 13 and 14, at the Granite City Township Hall, 2060 Delmar Ave.

The play is based on the comic strip "Peanuts" by Charles M.

Schulz.

The cast includes Marc Lull as Charlie Brown, Dynette Rogier as Lucy, Gary Schneider as Snoopy, James Drago as Linus, Pamela Dubnick as Patty, and Kevin Gros as Schroeder.

The Friday and Saturday performances will be presented as a dinner theater, with Sunday's performance, as a 2 p.m. matinee.

Directed by Jan Schneider and Marc Lull, the show is designed for adults, but children will love it too. "It's great fun to see your favorite comic strip characters come to life," the director said. For ticket information, call 451-1032.

also is used to pay for Madison County's $16.9 million administration building.

Sheriff Bob Church said his $4.3 million budget probably would increase because of Godfrey's incorporation.

"As long as Godfrey is paying for the service, I shouldn't be losing money," Church said. "The other county departments may lose some money."

However, if Godfrey forms its own police department, Church said he would have to lay off the five deputies who patrol Godfrey Township.

Highway Superintendent David Dietzel said the county probably wouldn't lose motor fuel tax revenue because of the incorporation.

The county gets about $3 million annually for road improvements, based on the number of registered vehicles in the county.

The highway department, along with the county's nursing and sheltered care homes and tuberculosis clinic, are not part of the general fund.

The county is expected to get $20.7 million this year in sales, income and property taxes, and federal and state grants for the general fund.

Murder

Homes at about 8:15 a.m. Monday and approached the vehicle. Wall is quoted as yelling back toward the apartment, "Your father," and he then called for an ambulance.

Wall told an officer he and Brewer had been drinking at several locations in Cahokia on Sunday evening. He told police Brewer decided to sleep in the truck because he did not feel comfortable staying at his daughter's apartment.

Wall said he took the keys to the truck to prevent Brewer from driving while intoxicated, and then went inside the Kirkpatrick Homes address to retire for the evening.

Wall said that when he awakened at 8:15, he found Brewer lying in the truck, apparently having burned.

Brewer's daughter, Susan Marie Migneron, 28, reported that Brewer had just broken up with his girlfriend on Sunday and had taken back an engagement ring.

The bodies of neither Julie nor Robin Kerry both of whom lived with their mother on Petite Drive in unincorporated North County, had been found at press time Tuesday morning.

Police were led to the suspects after locating a 16-year-old boy who apparently was with Gray and Clements at the time of incident. The boy left a flashlight on the bridge, which authorities later were able to trace to Sunday.

Police initially considered Cummins a prime suspect in the women's disappearance. After lengthy questioning, Cummins was held by police, who were pursuing murder charges against him as late as Saturday.

However, police later became convinced that Cummins' version of the incident was truthful and released him. Cummins initially told authorities he and his cousins were on the bridge when they were assaulted by a group of four men. The men reportedly raped the Kerry sisters and then threw them into the river before leaving Cummins to make the leap.

Police later became convinced that Cummins' version of the incident was truthful and released him. Cummins initially told authorities he and his cousins were on the bridge when they were assaulted by a group of four men. The men reportedly raped the Kerry sisters and then threw them into the river before leaving Cummins to make the leap.

Briefly

Health screenings offered

St. Elizabeth Medical Center's Cardio Pulmonary Rehab and Prevention Program will be offering cholesterol testing, blood pressure checks and blood sugar screenings, plus a professional consultation on all test results, on:

Wednesday, April 17, at the Wellness Center, 2103 Iowa St. in Granite City, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Pre-registration is required, by calling St. Elizabeth Medical Center's Education Resources Department at 788-3201 for an appointment.

Thursday, April 18, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Collinsville Schnucks, 501 Beltline Road. Participants will be seen on a first-come, first-served basis. No appointments are needed.

At both locations, cholesterol screenings, blood pressure tests and consultation will be offered for $7; blood sugar and blood pressure tests with consultation will be offered for $1.

Changes address in Mideast

A change of address has been received for Lt. Larry T. Birkner, who is serving with the 892nd Transportation Co. of Belleville in the Persian Gulf. His new address is: 1st Lt. Larry T. Birkner, 892nd Transportation Co., KKMCC, Operation Desert Storm, APO New York, N.Y. 09734.

Birkner's unit left March 5 for Saudi Arabia, where he was scheduled to be involved in cleanup operations and the repair or transportation of supplies and equipment. In a call from Doha on March 20, he said his outfit was to fly 700 miles to another site and begin transporting prisoners of war back to Iraq.

His wife, Tammy R. (Adams) Birkner of Granite City, said her husband reported that the air is badly polluted from oil well fires in Kuwait. Birkner expects to be based 40 miles from his brother, Roger Birkner, who arrived in the Mideast on Jan. 15. They are hoping for a reunion.

Benefit to aid two children

A chicken and beer benefit dance for two needy children will be held Saturday, April 20. Sponsored by Granite City Firefighters Local 253, it will be held from 6 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Croatian Home, 1000 Madison Ave., Madison. Admission of $10 per person, $20 per couple, includes chicken, beer, setups and music by disk jockey Jim Mursey. Food will be served until 9 p.m.

One of the two children being helped is affected with the CHARGE syndrome — coloboma of the eye, heart defect, Atresia of the choanae (nasal passage blockage), retardation of growth, genital hypoplasia and ear malformations.

According to the firefighters, this child is in need of a special stroller, costing $1,500, designed to assist in strengthening the child's neck muscles by keeping the head straight.

The second child suffers from cardiac problems and other medical complications that required open-heart surgery. The problems have left the family with a large accumulation of medical bills, which the firefighters would like to help pay.

Tickets will be available at the door or can be purchased in advance at Granite City Fire Station No. 1 at 2300 Madison Ave. For more information, the number is 876-1424.

Pain in the bottom of the heel is usually referred to as heel spur syndrome. The pain is intense upon arising in the morning or following a short period of rest. Although one can "walk it off," the pain intensifies as the day progresses.

An actual bone spur may or may not be present. Heel pain results from inflammation of the muscles as they attach to the heel bone. Treatment is designed to eliminate the inflammation by medications and occasionally, shoe inserts. Surgery is rarely if ever required.

Brazee jumps 7-0 for meet record at Belleville West

By Mike Kelly
Staff writer

BELLEVILLE — It was a record-setting day at the Belleville West Invitational. While Dan Brazee of Granite City (high jump) and Daren McDonough of Edwardsville (pole vault) shattered meet records, East St. Louis Lincoln marched its way to the head of the class in area track.

The Tigers, after playing second fiddle to East St. Louis since 1984, were the best team on the track Saturday, capturing seven events and piling up 146½ points. The Flyers, two-time defending champions, finished second, 40 points off the pace. Alton was third with 101.

The Warriors were well out of the running in team scoring. Granite City finished 13th in the 26-team field and only scored 20½ points. But Brazee provided half of those points with his career-best 7-0 effort in the high jump.

The senior, who finished fourth at the state meet last season with a jump of 6-7, jumped seven feet on Saturday for the first time in his career and nosed out Cameron Wright of Marion for the title. Brazee broke the record (6-10 set by Edwardsville's Scott Ahardt in 1985) on his second try.

He also made three unsuccessful attempts at 7-1. The 7-0, however, is the best in Illinois this season.

"I always seem to jump well at Belleville," Brazee said. "It was a perfect day to jump (sunny and 85 degrees, despite windy conditions at times). Once I hit 6-10 (at the Eastern Illinois Indoor Invitational on March 9), I knew seven feet was within reach. I felt much stronger today attacking the bar."

"My form felt fine, especially on the takeoff and the turn. Now I can set my sights on my next goal of jumping 7-1."

Some may think that's a small goal for someone who has already jumped seven feet, but

Dippel wins despite shaky defense, 10-3

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

WOOD RIVER — Finally, a good day in Wood River.

Bob Stegemeier and the Warriors have had to battle the elements here the last few years, but things went relatively well Monday as Granite City improved to 7-2 with a 10-3 win over the Oilers.

The only blot on the day was the error column. The Warriors committed six miscues, but most of them came after Granite City had taken a 9-0 lead after three innings. Sophomore pitcher Brent Dippel was able to pitch around most of those errors to get his first varsity win.

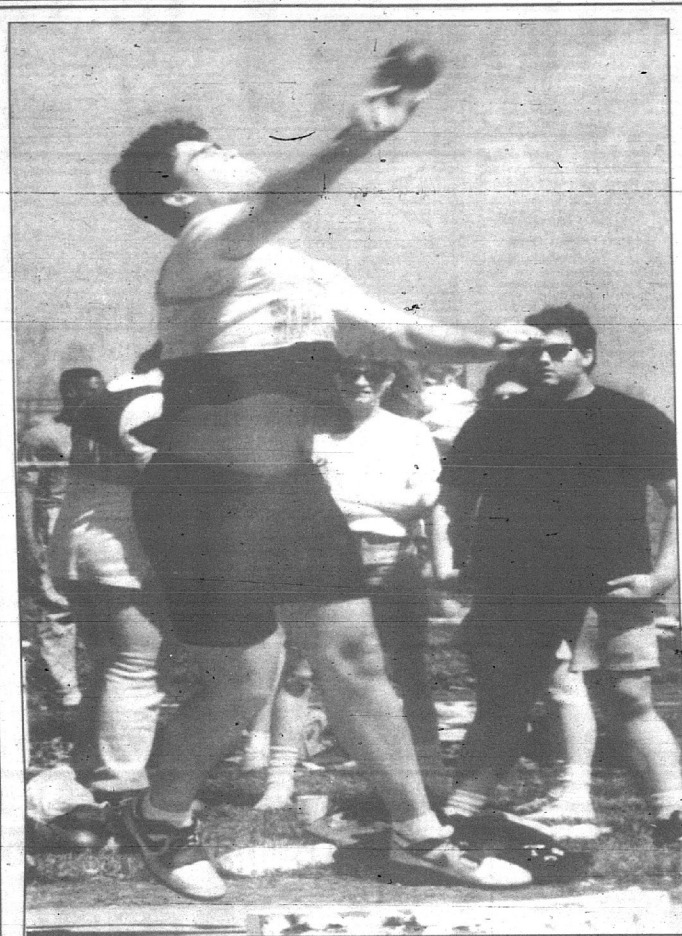

"We gave them 16 outs in three innings," said Stegemeier, who picked up his 26th career win. "Dip did a great job. He got a little tired because our defense made him throw more pitches than he needed."

Chris Hill pitched a 1-2-3 seventh after the Warriors had made two errors in each of the previous three frames. The Oilers (3-4) got one run on Bill Cunningham's triple and a sacrifice fly, then added two unearned runs.

But it was too little, too late after the Warriors had finished off Wood River starter Kevin Crump. He gave up five hits, walked two and hit two in 2½ innings. Sophomore third baseman Les Nunes singled home a run in the second, then Jeff Stephens highlighted an eight-run third with a two-run homer. The ball shot past left fielder Mark Sabatino and Stephens circled the bases behind Matt Patton, who had two hits and three RBIs.

Wilson finds companionship, perfection in Senior League

By Mike Kelly
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Tom Wilson is a trendsetter.

Since he picked up bowling as a hobby in 1984 following the death of his first wife (Rosemary), Wilson has worked to improve his game. The fruits of labor paid off March 28 when Wilson, 71, became the first person in 20 years to bowl a perfect game in the senior citizens league at Bowling.

"I feel real good about rolling that 300 game," he said. "I bowl five days a week and I take a serious approach. I basically started bowling to find some companionship when my first wife died. But I picked up on the game right away."

Wilson received the Most Improved Bowler Trophy his first two years on the senior citizens circuit. He has a 175 average and has racked up many 200 games. But he never dreamed of bowling a perfect game.

"Tom also wanted to be the first one to accomplish that in the senior citizens league," said his second wife, Esther. "He was hoping someone among the seniors would bowl a 300, but deep inside he wished it would

Late MAC signups slated April 9-10

The Mitchell Athletic Club will be having its late signups for baseball, softball and T-ball on April 9-10.

The signups will be held at the Mitchell Elementary school gym from 6-8 p.m. both nights. Teams are filling up fast this year and all are welcome to join. For baseball, boys born from 1976-83 are eligible. For softball, girls born from 1978-83 are welcome. For T-ball, youngsters born from 1984-86 are welcome.

The cost for baseball and softball is $25 for one child, not to exceed $50 per family. For T-ball, one child costs $20, not to exceed $50 per family.

For more information, call Larry Monroe at 931-1532.

May back in business at WINU in Highland

Joe May is back in business—the radio business.

The 1959 Bethesda Civic Memorial High School graduate has been named general manager of radio station WINU in Highland.

WINU is 1510 AM on the dial. The station was sold earlier this month. May is one of five board members of Win-U Limited, the new owners.

May, a 21-year veteran of area radio, mostly in sports, last worked at WESL in East St. Louis. He was sports director at WHV in Belleville and also has worked at KXOK in St. Louis, WOKZ (now WBGG) in Alton, WGN in Granite City and WHCO in Sparta.

May is also the editor of The Baseball Magazine, a publication devoted to Cardinals baseball. It is published in Swansboro, N.C.

May says he is excited about returning to radio and having hands-on touch with his first love—area sports.

Steel softball leagues have some openings

The National Steel Recreation Facility has openings in the following leagues this summer.

The Sunday Evening Men's League has two openings and the Friday Night 35 and Over League has one opening. Entry fees for each league are $280. Anyone interested should call Mike Kmetz at 678-6371.

Channel 11 stays with Blues

KPLR-TV (Channel 11) is planning to follow the Blues throughout the playoffs with complete coverage of all home and away games.

The schedule for this week is Wednesday from Detroit at 6:30 p.m. and Friday from the Arena at 7:30 p.m. The sixth game of the series (if necessary) will be aired from Detroit at 7 p.m. Sunday. The seventh game of the series will be televised from the Arena next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Because of a scheduling conflict with the Cardinals' home opener, KMOV-TV (Channel 4) will air the first game of the Norris Division finals on April 18 should the Blues win their series with the Red Wings. That game would either be in Chicago or at home against the Minnesota North Stars. In either case, the telecast would start at 7:30 p.m. Channel 11 will also offer live hockey cut-ins during the baseball game.

We were looking for a workable solution which would benefit the St. Louis sports fan," said William T. Crowell, vice president and general manager of Channel 11.

Through the cooperation of Ted Koplar of Channel 11 and Allan Cohen of Channel 4, Blues fans are the winners," said Blues president Jack Quinn.

"Throughout our entire season our fans have been able to see Blues hockey on television live and we collectively felt it was most important during the playoffs that this continues."

"We at Channel 4 are pleased that we will be able to provide St. Louis Blues fans with this unique opportunity," said Cohen, vice president and general manager of Channel 4.

On April 18, Channel 11 will also air two pre-game, pre-game specials. "The Cardinals Home Opener Special—The Tradition Continues" airs at 6:30 p.m. The program is locally produced and will salute the Cardinals and will be co-hosted by George Grande and Al Hrabosky. Bud Sports is also producing the traditional pre-game festivities. That show will air at 7 p.m.

Brazee

Brazee doesn't listen to the critics. "Dan always puts pressure on himself," Granite City coach Dave McClain said. "He has his personal goals set. If he doesn't reach them, he's visibly disappointed. The outside stuff doesn't matter to him. All Dan is concerned about is consistency."

Brazee feels that developing a consistency at 6-10 will be good enough to reach the state finals and give him a shot at the title. "I constantly work on my form in practice," he said. "The highest I've ever gone in practice is 6-2 or 6-3. My main concern during that time is refining my form. You're not going to clear the bar without it. Building a consistency at 6-10 might win at state.

An off-season weight program is responsible for Brazee's confidence this season. "I'm attacking the bar more this year," Brazee said. "I have the confidence to get over it, but I still have to build some consistency with my legs. At times I feel I have the bar cleared, but I forget to kick my legs over and they clip the bar. It's tough making that adjustment in mid-air, but that's what I'm working on."

"Dan isn't by any means a power jumper," McClain said. "He doesn't possess the powerful legs. He's needs finesse to get the job done. His form is the key to success. I've seen him develop over the last four years. He's got the tools to place at state again.

That's why jumping seven feet didn't surprise me today. At our meeting (Friday) night, I told the boys that the weather was going to be warm and that I expect them to produce their best times. Then I looked at Dan and told him he was going to jump seven feet. We both laughed about it, but he got the job done."

There were two other records broken at the meet. McDonough's effort in the pole vault of 15-10 1/4 easily broke the old mark of 14-9 set by Marion's Lonnie Barnes in 1987. Joe Anderson of Alton, who captured three events, and Nick Reed of Decatur MacArthur set the other record in the 110-meter high hurdles (14.0). That broke the old mark of 14.2 set by Mark Wilson of Springfield Southeast in 1978 and equaled by Rod McMullen of Edwardsville in 1994.

Otherwise, it was all Lincoln. The Tigers swept the relays, while Ryan Reed captured the 100-meter dash (10.9). Eric Logan finished first in the 800-meter run (1:58.7) and Tracy Hendricks won the triple jump (46-3 1/2).

NOTES: Madison only scored eight points and finished 17th in the field. Alphonso Brandon had Madison's best showing with a second-place finish in the long jump (21-2).

Proffer emerging as standout pitcher

By Mike Kelly
Staff writer

DUPO — Cole Proffer is making a strong case for himself as the standout pitcher in the Cahokia Conference.

The Tiger right-hander, who only threw eight innings last season, has won three games in four outings this season. A perfect game against Tower Grove (Mo.) on April 2, a victory in relief against Alton Marquette on Saturday and a five-hitter in the "conference" opener against Carlyle on Monday has the area talking.

"He threw a neck of a game against us," Carlyle coach Gary Wheeler said. "He did a marvelous job of mixing up his pitches. Our hitters were guessing all day. We only made solid contact against him in the fifth inning, but for the most part he just shut us down."

For his efforts, Proffer has been named this week's East Side Publications Journal Athlete of the Week.

"I've been pitching since I was 7 years old," Proffer said. "I felt I could have helped the team last season, but there were three quality starters (Steve Diehl, Dale Daniel and Ery Dugan) ahead of me. So I just waited for my turn."

Dupo coach Jerry Devany certainly isn't surprised by Proffer's amazing start.

"I had confidence in Cole all along," he said. "He just throws strikes. He has a nice fastball which breaks away from the right-handed hitters, and it's a great setup pitch for his curve. Cole should be undefeated, but we threw the first game against Valmeyer away. If we can play solid defense, Cole's going to be a big winner for us."

Proffer, oozing with confidence, feels he can go undefeated in the conference.

"As long as my teammates give me some defense, I'll win every game I pitch," he said. "I have a lot of confidence in my pitches and in Josh (Markert) behind the plate. He calls a nice game for me and we have a system set up when I'm out there. If he calls for a certain pitch, I'll shake him off. But I'll still throw that pitch to keep the hitters guessing."

Other candidates considered for the award were Chuck Roy of the Cahokia baseball team, Cortez Nichols of the East St. Louis Lincoln track team and Addie Lenz of the Granite City soccer team.

Each week one varsity athlete from Granite City, Madison, Venice, Cahokia, Dupo, East St. Louis or Lincoln high schools is selected by the Journal Sports staff as the East Side Publications Journal Athlete of the Week. Selected athletes are eligible for consideration as the Journal Athlete of the Month.

be him. Well, his wish came true.

"Tom always puts his heart into the game. He wants to do his best. That's his approach towards anything he does. He's a determined individual."

Ironically, bowling also led Tom to meeting his new wife. He was selected as a substitute on Esther's team in 1985. The couple hit it off right away.

"There was an opening on our team, and I selected Tom to fill the vacancy," she said. "I wasn't interested in finding a new husband and Tom wasn't interested in finding a new wife. But we happened to meet when he joined my team. We got acquainted and things took off from there."

That relationship started a trend that's seen three more couples follow a similar pattern in recent years.

"I wouldn't say that's happened because of us," Esther said. "But I guess we got the ball rolling. The important thing in the senior leagues isn't who will register the highest score. It's the companionship and the contact that allows an older person to converse with someone his own age. That makes it enjoyable."

"It's a social gathering with a pleasant atmosphere. We have a lot of fun."

Army exhibit to come to high school

The U.S. Army Cinema Pod, a special indoor traveling exhibit out of Washington, D.C., will tour Granite City High School on April 12, according to Staff Sergeant Nick Lawson of the U.S. Army Recruiting Station located at 3675 Nameoki Road in Granite City.

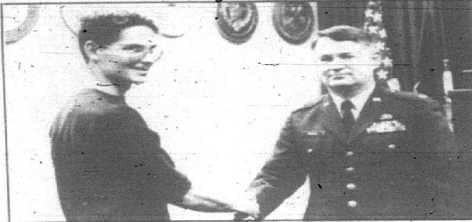

Lawson will be on hand during the visit to answer students' questions about the Pod, which he describes as a "special mobile exhibit of fast-paced, multi-imaged shows of particular interest to high school students."

Some of the shows available in the exhibit are "Army Force of the Future," a presentation on today's high tech Army; "In Step With America," an overview of the Army's contributions to the development of the nation; "Our Federal Government," a look at the three-step process of becoming a soldier; "Language — Ours and Theirs," the evolution of the English language; and "It's Worth It," which deals with math and science.

The Cinema Pod is escorted by a two-soldier team from the U.S. Army Recruiting Support Command, Cameron Station, Virginia, and is sponsored by the Granite City Recruiting Station in cooperation with school officials.

Young people who can meet the Army's physical and aptitude standards may call Lawson at (618) 376-5950 to learn more about Army opportunities. He has information on the GI Bill plus the Army College Fund, in which a recruit can accumulate as much as $25,200 towards future college expenses. He also has information on cash bonuses, educational aid, and skill training with hands-on experience to build a career by doing an out-of-the-ordinary job with challenge, travel and adventure.

Father enlists son in U.S. Air Force

Air Force Maj. Charles L. Fenoglio, formerly of Granite City, enlisted his son into the U.S. Air Force in a ceremony at Richmond, Va., on Feb. 15.

Airman Basic Charles L. Fenoglio II was scheduled to graduate from basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base in Texas on April 2.

Maj. Fenoglio is stationed at Langley Air Force Base, Va., where he is chief of the Manpower Studies and Analysis Team.

He graduated from Granite City High School in 1968, Southern Illinois University at Carbondale in 1978, with a bachelor's degree in industrial technology.

and from Embury-Riddle Aeronautical University with a master's degree in aviation in 1989.

Airman Fenoglio was born at Chanute Air Force Base in Rantoul, Ill., and attended both grade school and junior high school in Granite City. He graduated from Radford High School in Honolulu, Hawaii, in 1988.

Maj. Fenoglio is married to the former Roberta V. Rojas, daughter of Catherine E. Rojas of Granite City.

The major's stepmother, Judith Fenoglio, and both his grandmothers, Edna M. Wheat and Ruby P. Scott, also live in Granite City.

SIUE to offer day camps this summer

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer a wide range of day and resident camps for children and young people this summer.

The schedule includes camps for many interests, including art (drawing, painting, music, flute and choir), computer, music (band, piano, jazz, computer music, flute and choir), science, dance and writing.

A number of sports camps are also scheduled, including basketball, soccer, track, cross country and volleyball.

There will also be a nursing day camp and a leadership institute for high school students. A brochure listing information relating to camps, schedules and eligibility criteria is available to help parents plan their family summer activities. For more information, call Pamela Voss at the University, 692-2626.

Petrosky receives artillery award

Army Pvt. Steven Petrosky received the High Honor Graduate Award of field artillery upon graduation in March from basic training at Fort Sill, Okla.

The soldier is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Petrosky of Madison and a graduate of Madison Senior High School.

Petrosky also was awarded the "most high" graduate by his platoon sergeant and battery commander while a member of Battery E, 3rd Battalion, 321st Field Artillery at Fort Sill.

The soldier is a cannon fire specialist.

Veterans enjoy AMVETS party

Members of Quad-City AMVETS Post 51 and Auxiliary hosted an afternoon of bingo for patients at the nursing home facility at Jefferson Barracks Veterans Hospital on Feb. 24.

Local AMVETS were happy to meet 94-year-old Windell Phillips, a World War I veteran, who enjoyed playing bingo along with more than 50 other veterans.

"The smiles on their faces when they yelled 'bingo' was worth a million words," said one local AMVET. No one lost as those not receiving a prize were presented a consolation gift, she said.

Garden Club gets book

Ten members of the Garden Study Club met at Shoney's Restaurant on Nameki Road for a noon lunch and meeting on April 2.

The business meeting was called to order by President Mary Stonum, and the club collected was paid in union.

A letter was read from Charlie Giedeman, coordinator of horticulture for Belleville Area College, telling about the college's horticulture bedding plants. The sale will be on April 19, 2021, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Those interested in purchasing plants may park near the green houses, located behind the college in rear parking lot.

Stonum, Helen Meyer, Marie McKen, Christine Hornberger and Bonnie Rutkowski attended the annual meeting of District V on March 28 at Di Romero's Restaurant in East Alton. The hostess club for the event was Wood River Garden Club.

Garden Study received its history book at the meeting with a blue ribbon and graded 100 percent.

Rutkowski was initiated as District V's recording secretary and received a plant.

Stonum also sold 30 rose bushes for C.E. Eads that were delivered to the meeting early that morning. The multicolor floribunda rose bush is being named for Mr. Eads and is called the Eads Rose. The bush was cultivated from seed and is one of a kind.

Eads is the husband of the late Marie Eads, a long-time member of Garden Study. The couple's rose garden was pictured in Home and Garden Magazine a few years ago.

At Shoney's a drawing for a large ceramic pitcher and bowl was won by Clara Winter. Proceeds from the event will buy horticulture for planting.

Shirley Stallings gave the program called "Wildflowers to Start the Garden Season." In times when many natural woodlands are being destroyed for suburban development, it is important that every garden include many of the native plants, she said. Plants for April include blooming dwarf bleeding heart, wild phlox, dwarf shrub Rhodora and dog violet that forms ground cover near rhodora.

Auxiliary sends $131 to state fund

Venice-Madison Unit 307, American Legion Auxiliary, held its monthly meeting on April 1 at the Post 307 Home in Venice.

Roseann Koelker, president, presided. There were 28 present. LaVelle Stephens and Betty Nugent were hostesses.

Kate Buechele, Americanism chairman, reported on the meeting for the Flag Day Parade to be held June 15 in Granite City.

Dorothy Bergrath, Auxiliary Emergency chairman, reported $131 will be sent to the state fund. The monies are used for auxiliary members needing emergency financial assistance.

Louise Foley, Children and Youth chairman, announced the campership forms are due by May 3. She also reported on the Area 12 Special Olympics to be May 4 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer fields. Members will bake cookies for the refreshment tent.

David Medley, DARE officer for Venice Police Department, was guest speaker. He explained the program being held in the Venice schools for DARE. Following his presentation, Unit 307 presented him with a $500 check for the program.

The Junior Auxiliary meeting was set for April 8 and plans were made to attend the Department Junior Conference on April 26-27-28 in Champaign.

Dorothy Hinson, co-chairman for VA and B, reported a hospital orientation for volunteers was held April 4 at Post 307. A report was given on a bingo party and bedside visits to the John Cochran V.A. Hospital on March 28. Ten members participated, and refreshments and money tray favors were given to all patients.

Easter tray favors were also sent to Marian V.A. Hospital, Chester Mental Health Center, Choate (Anna) Mental Health Center, and DuPage County Convalescent Home. The tray favors each had quarters attached.

Disposable razors and pocket combs were sent to Westside V.A. Hospital in Chicago. Eight table games, such as checkers and dominoes, were sent to Danville V.A. Hospital. Plans are made to have a bingo party at the Jefferson Barracks Nursing Home in May.

A $100 donation will be sent to the Chapel of Four Chaplains in Pennsylvania for their new building.

A $200 donation for travel expenses will be sent to Pilot Dog, Inc. Their representatives were here for the Post 307 Birthday Party on March 23. The presentation by them with the guide dog for the blind was well received by those attending the party.

The attendance prize was won by Nadine Marcus.

The next meeting of Unit 307 will be May 6 at 6:30 p.m. when an election of officers for 1991-92 will take place.

Cornmeal Praline

Stable Native Staple
Stands Test Of Time

By Janice Denham
Staff writer

The Pilgrims would approve of the ways today's cooks use one of their favorite ingredients—corn. Just as it kept people alive during the first hard, cold winters in New England in the 1620s, it helps cooks who are on a time or money shoestring make it through meals today.

While it originated in Mexico and found its way to North America, where the Indians called it maize, corn became the staff of life for Europeans who settled this country. It helped earn southern Illinois its nickname of "Little Egypt" in the 1800s when farmers from the northern part of the state suffered a drought and came to get food from their neighbors, just as Egyptians of the Nile River Delta provided it in ancient times.

One of the easiest ways to include corn in meals today is by using it in meal form. Cornbread, corn muffins, hush puppies, fritters and puddings are mainstays when cornmeal is combined with wheat flour. Cornmeal is readily available in a self-rising form to make cornbread a fast, fill-up and easy concoction. Meal that is ground from white corn—used traditionally in Southern cornbread—is a bit finer, but the color of yellow cornmeal shows its sunny disposition.

Cornbread from a scratch recipe may not resemble the concoction made from a mix. Crumbliness can be caused by an abundance of cornmeal versus flour. A recipe that uses butter milk adds richness. A bit of sugar makes the delicious bread more palatable to non-scratch bakers. Molasses with baking soda in the ingredients turns it into a Johnny cake—thought to be a variation of the "journey cake" settlers traveling west baked for themselves along the way.

For variety in cornbread, try grated apple in the batter or a small handful of raisins or currants. When using grated apple, slightly reduce the liquid.

Another way to enjoy the taste and consistency of cornmeal is combined with easy and convenient ingredients on today's pantry shelf, such as in these recipes. It often serves as a sweet or not-so-sweet dessert, but can be used as a breakfast or brunch specialty as well, adding a bit of substance to a sweet specialty.

Microwave Praline Cornbread Pudding

- 1/4 cup chopped pecans
- 3 cups cubed white bread (about 8 slices)
- 2 cups milk
- 1/4 cup (1/2 stick) margarine
- 1/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1/2 cup cornmeal
- 3 eggs, beaten
- 1/2 tsp. vanilla
- 1/2 tsp. baking powder

In 1 1/2-quart microwave-safe bowl, microwave pecans on high power about 2 minutes, stirring once, until lightly toasted. Add bread cubes.

In 2-quart microwave-safe bowl, microwave milk and margarine on high 3 to 4 minutes until margarine is melted. Stir in brown sugar and cornmeal. Microwave on high 3 to 4 minutes, stirring after 2 minutes, until mixture begins to thicken.

Combine eggs, vanilla and baking powder. Whisk into cornmeal mixture, stirring until smooth. Pour over bread cubes. Microwave on high 4 to 5 minutes, stirring after 3 minutes.

Serve immediately with milk or half-and-half, if desired.

Tip: To reheat one serving, combine 1/4 cup bread pudding with 2 tablespoons milk or half-and-half. Microwave on high power about 1 minute or until hot.

Makes 8 servings; 300 calories, 7 g protein, 40 g carbohydrate, 13 g fat, 90 mg cholesterol, 240 mg sodium, 1 g dietary fiber each.

Glazed Pear Tarts

- 1 1/2 cups flour
- 1/4 cup cornmeal
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup (1/2 stick) margarine
- 1/2 cup dairy sour cream
- 3 cups thinly sliced ripe pears (about 3 medium), or 2 cans (16 oz. each) halved pears, well drained, thinly sliced.
- 1/4 cup caramel topping or apricot preserves

In large bowl of electric mixer, beat flour, cornmeal, sugar, margarine and sour cream. Mix well with fork, stirring until dough forms ball. Divide dough in 8 portions. Press each portion in 5-inch circle on ungreased cookie sheet, forming 1/4-inch edge. Arrange sliced pears over dough. Bake 15 to 20 minutes at 400° until edges are golden brown.

Spoon 2 teaspoons caramel topping over each tart. Brush lightly to cover pears.

Makes 8 servings; 405 calories, 4 g protein, 54 g carbohydrate, 20 g fat, 5 mg cholesterol, 210 mg sodium and 3 g dietary fiber each.

Heartland Berry Shortcake

- 1 1/2 cups complete pancake mix
- 3/4 cup cornmeal
- 1/4 cup plus 1 tbsp. sugar
- 1 cup milk
- 1/4 cup (1/2 stick) margarine, melted
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 pkg. (16 oz.) frozen raspberries, thawed, undrained, pured
- 1 cup fresh or frozen blueberries, thawed if necessary
- 2 tbsp. almond liqueur, if desired
- Sweetened whipped cream, if desired

Grease 9-inch round baking pan. Combine pancake mix, cornmeal and 1/4 cup sugar. Add milk, margarine and egg, mixing just until moistened. Spread batter into prepared pan. Combine remaining 1-tablespoon sugar and cinnamon. Sprinkle over batter. Bake 18 to 20 minutes at 400° until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes on wire rack.

Serve warm. Cut shortcake in wedges. Serve with combined raspberries, blueberries and almond liqueur. Top with sweetened whipped cream.

Tip: To reheat one slice of shortcake, microwave on high power 10 to 15 seconds.

Makes 8 servings; 205 calories, 6 g protein, 47 g carbohydrate, 9 g fat, 35 mg cholesterol, 400 mg sodium and 2 g dietary fiber each with 1/4 cup sauce.

Cherry Pound Cake Squares

- 1 pkg. (16 1/2 oz.) pound cake mix
- 1/4 cup cornmeal
- 1/4 cup chopped almonds
- 1/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 2 tbsp. margarine
- 1 can (21 oz.) cherry pie filling
- 1/2 tsp. almond extract
- Confectioner's sugar, if desired

Grease 15-by-10-inch baking pan. Combine pound cake mix and 1/4 cup cornmeal. Prepare as package directs. Spread in prepared pan.

Combine almonds, brown sugar and 1/4 cup cornmeal. Cut in margarine until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Sprinkle over batter. Drop spoonfuls of combined pie filling and extract over batter 3 inches apart. Bake 35 minutes at 350° or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Sprinkle with confectioner's sugar. Best when served warm.

Makes 12 servings; 275 calories, 4 g protein, 60 g carbohydrate, 13 g fat, 35 mg cholesterol, 185 mg sodium and 1 g dietary fiber each.

Guides for mom help newborns

By Janice Denham
Staff writer

Bonnie Worthington-Roberts, an expert in maternal nutrition, said recent studies by the National Academy of Sciences give mothers-to-be and new mothers better guidelines on how much weight they would gain and the nutrients they should have.

She was in St. Louis recently under the sponsorship of the St. Louis District Dairy Council to summarize the studies for the Missouri Perinatal Association Clinical Conference.

"The weight gain guidelines recommend weight gain on an individual basis," she said in an interview. "Now there are some specific guidelines whether you are of normal weight, underweight or overweight if you are short or a young teenager. So there is a much more comprehensive guideline, realizing there is always a lot of variation in individuals."

The information also offers a better grounding for health professionals to recommend what nutritional supplements might be needed, depending on lifestyle and dietary variables. For instance, all women need at least a slight increase in iron during pregnancy. Now there is more attention to other nutrients, like folic acid, which also may need to be increased.

"A lot of what has gone on in prenatal care in recent years has been sort of gut reaction," she said. "Essentially, this is a review since the late '60s of everything that has gone on since then."

Recommendations for weight gain during pregnancy have changed. Worthington-Roberts said there was a time when every pregnant woman was expected to gain only 15 pounds. The recommendation after that was just the opposite, that a woman should eat "to appetite," which gave many women too much leeway for their own and their babies' good.

Low birth weight can result in babies who are not tended well by their mothers before they are born. In reviewing worldwide birth statistics for developed countries, the United States is nowhere near the top in the percentage of live births.

"Why are we in such bad shape? We don't take care of some of the needy people before they have their children."

She said more money is being apportioned to prenatal care, because a healthy mother, not just a healthy baby, should be a goal of maternal nutrition. However, when money is used for such programs, health care dollars usually decrease in other needy areas, such as preschool children's health care.

The St. Louis District Dairy Council offers a 12-month calendar called "Great Beginnings," which includes the suggested weight gains, nutrition tips, answers to common questions about pregnancy and information on fetal development as it should be occurring. It is available by sending $3 to the dairy council, 8710 Manchester Road, St. Louis, 63144.

Worthington-Roberts feels pregnancy is a prime time to improve a woman's health overall, because she is in top with good practices.

"Women who focused on other things, like staying skinny to attract their friend, finally realize they have a fetus to take care of. It can be a motivating time," she said.

Once the baby is born, breast-feeding is the method preferred for best health for the mother and the infant, even though infant formula available in the U.S. is among the safest and most comparable to human milk. Lactating women drink more milk—the cause being physiological or psychological is unknown—producing healthier women.

The nutritionist said the U.S. averages 52 percent of women breast-feed. The mountainous regions of western states have a high percentage of 70 to 80 percent, while states like Missouri, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama bring the average down to 20 to 30 percent. The percentage topped out at about 60 percent in 1971 and has been falling gradually since 1962. She hopes the popularity of mothers nursing their children in the '90s will give more evidence and support to the next generation.

Bananas, rum add zing to pound cake

Part of the appeal of rum-soaked pound cake is its dense, moist texture. For those who like that tantalizing quality but prefer a mere hint of rum flavor, this is the recipe to keep and use.

Rum-Glazed Banana Pound Cake is an elegant treat that takes on an ultra-rich flavor and dense texture with the simple addition of two extra-ripe bananas. The tropical fruit with speckled skin takes the place of water in a packaged pound cake mix batter. Then, for good measure, another chopped banana goes into the batter. Instead of rum-soaking, a simple glaze of sugar, water, margarine and rum extract is warmed and brushed over the cake.

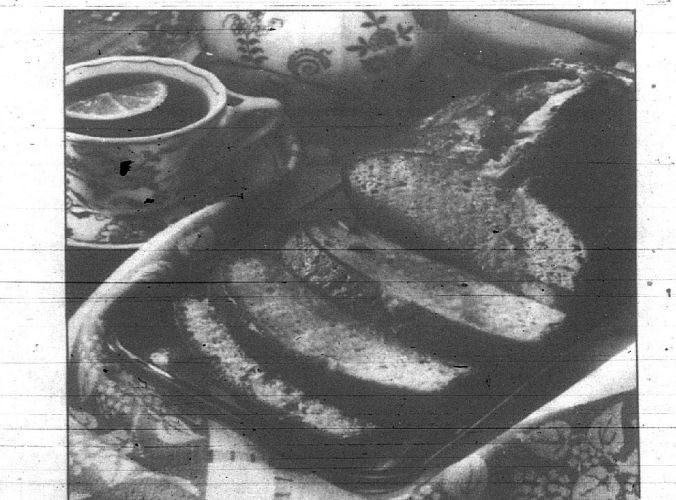

This pound cake makes a perfect finale for brunch. To extend the flavors, cut a ripe Anjou, such as cantaloupe or honey, in half and serve with sliced bananas. Top with yogurt, honey and cinnamon.

Rum-Glazed Banana Pound Cake

- 2 extra-ripe, small bananas
- 1 pkg. (16 oz.) pound cake mix
- 1 medium banana, chopped (1/2 cup)
- 1/4 cup sliced almonds
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup water
- 1/4 cup margarine
- 1 tsp. rum extract

Puree 2 small bananas in blender to measure 1/2 cup. Prepare cake mix according to package directions, substituting banana puree for water. Stir in chopped banana.

Sprinkle almonds evenly over bottom of greased and floured 9-by-5-inch loaf pan. Pour batter over almonds. Bake in 325° oven

BANANAS AND A TOUCH of rum extract elevate a plain pound cake mix to rich, elegant Rum-Glazed Banana Pound Cake.

60 to 70 minutes until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan 10 minutes. Remove cake from pan. Place nut-side down on plate.

In saucepan, combine sugar, water and margarine. Cook, stirring, until sugar dissolves. Stir in rum extract. Brush warm glaze over top and sides of cake. Cool before slicing.

Makes 12 servings; 337 calories, 5.1 g protein, 56.2 g fat, 44.5 g carbohydrate, 185.5 mg sodium and 78.7 mg cholesterol each.

Asparagus signals fresh salad's return

Spring days mean the return of asparagus. Light, crisp and refreshing, salads go together in a matter of minutes for light, nutritious eating when the sun lingers on the day. With a little preplanning, they can be some of the most interesting meals that are prepared in a hurry.

In this Mediterranean specialty, colors, flavors and textures come together in a light and satisfying entree for lunch or supper. Thinly sliced goat cheese can be marinated in a garlicky almond-herb mixture overnight. The asparagus also

- 1/4 tsp. Italian herb seasoning
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1 pkg. (8 1/2 oz.) goat cheese (called chev), sliced
- 1 lb. fresh asparagus
- 1/4 cup red onion rings
- 1 qt. torn butter lettuce
- 2 cups watercress sprigs
- 1/4 cup balsamic vinegar

Spread almonds in shallow pan. Roast at 350° for 10 minutes, stirring once or twice, until lightly browned. Cool.

Finely grind 1/4 cup almonds. Stir in marinade from artichokes, almond oil, parsley, garlic, herb seasoning and pepper. Mix well. Pour over cheese. Let stand, covered, at least 2 hours for flavors to blend. Refrigerate if standing several hours.

Remove woody stems from asparagus. Cut in diagonal, bite-size pieces. Blanch in boiling water 1 minute. Drain. Cool. Toss with red onion, bell pepper, artichoke hearts and remaining 1/4 cup almonds with butter lettuce and watercress. Top with marinated cheese. Blend balsamic vinegar into marinade. Drizzle over salad.

Makes 8 servings (2 quarts).

Nothing smells more inviting than muffins from the oven

Whole grains have become synonymous with healthy eating. They are higher in vitamin E and other vitamins, minerals and dietary fiber than enriched or refined grains commonly used for baking. Both vitamin E and fiber have been associated with lower cancer incidence in studies funded by the American Institute for Cancer Research.

While it has become easier to buy whole grain baked goods from local supermarkets, there is nothing more enticing than fresh, hot muffins straight from the oven. Whole grain muffin batters are among the most versatile. They can be made with the entire range of whole grains, including wheat, oat, barley, rice, corn, triticale, rye and buckwheat. Add chopped fruits, spices and a few chopped nuts to vary the recipe or use fruit juice in place of water.

A rule of thumb for baking muffins with whole wheat flour is to substitute 1 cup finely milled whole wheat flour for seven-eighths cup of coarsely ground, for each cup all-purpose flour. While some whole grain baked goods may come out somewhat dry, whole grain muffins usually are moist and have better texture, flavor and baking qualities because of moistening ingredients in the batter. Chopped fruit, such as dates, apples and bananas, also will help make extra moist muffins.

Whole grain muffins have an inviting, grainy, nutty flavor that soaks up toppings, but avoid canceling out the nutritional benefits of muffins by slathering them with butter. Instead, enjoy low-fat alternatives, such as all-fruit spreads and homemade jam.

Savory Herb and Mustard Muffins offer an alternative dish with roast chicken or other favorite meats. They are low in fat and high in whole wheat fiber. Serve them piping hot and butter or margarine will not be missed.

Learn more about the importance of fiber in foods by sending for AICR's free booklet, "Dietary Fiber to Lower Cancer Risk." For a free copy, send a self-addressed, business-size envelope stamped with 52 cents postage to: American Institute for Cancer Research, Department DF, Washington, D.C. 20069.

Savory Herb And Mustard Muffins

1/4 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup chopped green bell pepper
2 cups whole wheat flour
2 1/2 tsp. baking powder
2 tsp. dried sage (or herb of choice)
2 eggs
1 cup skim milk
3 tbsp. oil
2 1/2 tsp. Dijon mustard
1 tsp. honey

To soften onion and pepper, soak in about 1 cup water 10 minutes, or microwave 1 minute on high power.
In large bowl, stir together flour, baking powder and sage. In separate bowl, beat together eggs, milk, oil, mustard and honey. Stir in softened onion and pepper. Quickly combine milk mixture with flour mixture just until blended. Do not overmix. Spoon batter into lightly greased muffin cups. Bake in 375° oven about 20 minutes. Serve warm or cool.

Makes 12 muffins; 126 calories and 5 g fat each.

Genealogical Society to meet

The Madison County Genealogical Society will meet from 7 to 9 p.m., April 11, in the conference room at the Edwardsville Public Library (lower level), 112 South Kansas St. A short business meeting will be held for the awarding of the family history contest prizes, followed by refreshments.

Betty Jenne Greenwood of Chatham, Ill., will be awarded first prize in the Family History Contest, for her entry on the Abraham Ging family of Madison County.

Other recipients of monetary awards in the adult classification will be: second prize: Edward H. Friesen of Highland, for her entry "Genealogy through the Years," which included Steiner, Geer of St. Ann, Mo., for her entry on the Herman Christoph Detmers family.

The student award will go to Jennifer Chase of Collinsville High School for her Picatto Family History. Certificates will be awarded for Honorable Mention to: June Hunk of Bristol, Ok., for her entry "Balaster memories," and Elva Beck of Pocahontas, for her entry "Genealogy through the Years," which included Steiner, Ambuehl, Schrupp, Beck, Marti Berg and others of the Highland area. These family histories will appear in future issues of the genealogical society's quarterly publication, "The Stalker."

The remainder of the evening will be spent getting acquainted with the new genealogical library room on the main floor.

Nameoki Methodist group meets

The March meeting of Nameoki United Methodist Church was held in home of Marie Long. Millie Clements gave the blessing before dessert.

Mary Bailey opened the meeting by asking for the secretary and Treasurer reports. Marie Long sent five get-well cards since the last meeting. Tharah Eney gave the Last Day message. A note of thanks was received from Edna Du Fran. Easter poems from Ideals book was read by Bess Ducker. In Defense of Senior Citizens was read by Gladys Russell.

The program "Music, Music" will be given at Central Christian Church, April 14, from 2 to 4 p.m.

The Annual Mother and Daughter Buffet will be May 13. Tickets are $2.25 for adults and 75 cents for children.

Tharah Eney gave the closing prayer. Those attending were Dorothy Ashford, Mary Bailey, Millie Clements, Tharah Eney, Ruby Gunderson, Ann Haley, Marie Long, Bess Ducker, Gladys Russell, Jessie Sayer, Marie Leimborg.

Young at Heart presents officers

The Rev. William Fisher-Keller, pastor of Holy Family Parish, and Young at Heart Club members enjoyed a corned beef and cabbage dinner catered by Jerry.

President Irma Manning called the March 18 meeting to order. The minutes were read by Margaret Kwiatkowski for the recording by Secretary Elizabeth Schuler.

Membership Chairman Elizabeth McCoy reported 106 members in attendance in addition to three priests and five sisters who were guests. This year renewed their 1991 dues, bringing the membership up to 114 members.

Reports were given by Lucille Caban, publicity, and Margaret Kwiatkowski, refreshments. Rose Juhász, friendship, reported that she sent three get-well cards, one anniversary and one sympathy card.

Those celebrating March birthdays were: Fran Gallauer, Fran Pelate, Irma Marti, Cleo Siebert, Aileen Pirtle, Mattie Soloff, Anna Michels, Eva Six, Winnie Bringer and Katie Obucina.

Elizabeth McCoy, nominating committee chairman, presented the slate of officers for 1991-92: Manning, president; Warren Bequette, vice president; Louise Kovar, treasurer; Katherine Berosky, recording secretary; and Cleo Siebert, corresponding secretary.

Officers will be formally elected in April and installed in May. An Irish prayer and the prescription for a laugh was read by Manning.

After a report about the distribution of the Corner Share Units purchased by the group, a motion was made to pass the hat again to purchase units of food for the needy. After the meeting was adjourned, a lively auction of articles donated by the members was held.

Next meeting date in April 15.

DUV Tent 92 remembers friends

Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War - Aunt Becky Young Tent 92 held their luncheon and business meeting Feb. 28 at Anhearing Homes. Joyce Moran served as hostess.

The meeting was opened with prayer and pledge of allegiance. The business segment was conducted by President Louise Brinker, and the charter was draped in memory of Lethia Gitchoff, a 50-year member.

A contribution was sent to the Grand Army of the Republic Living Memorial Fund, Department of Illinois, Daughters of Union Veterans of the Civil War 1861-1865 Inc. The donation was made by Tent 92 in memory of the late Lethia Gitchoff.

A memorial gift also was sent in memory of William Landman, late husband of Opal Landman. Roll call and records were read by Janet Sander and the treasurer's report was given by Louise Thompson. A get-well card was sent to Alma Beckmann. In the social hour, games were played under the direction of the hostess. A special prize was awarded to Peggy Gibbons.

Also present were Florence Hildebrand, Irma Taylor, Louise Thompson, Joyce Moran, Enid Bolia, Mary Stomum, Shirley Stallings and Janet and Vernon Sander.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Sander reported attending the Missouri Civil War Reenactors Association's annual ball, sponsored by the Ladies Union Aide-Society on Feb. 28.

The ball was held in the Capital Rotunda at Jefferson City, Mo., and the theme was "Presidents."

All the women attending received fan holders as favors. The 20-inch-long holders were made of braided ribbons. Period music was provided by "The Euphoria String Band."

A quilt made by a Warrenton, Mo. group, honoring military personnel serving in Operation Desert Storm, was displayed. Names of servicemen in Desert Storm are being collected to add to the quilt, the Sanders said.

Christian Science lecture set

Sandra Luerssen Hoerner, C.S., will give a free public Christian Science lecture on the subject, "God's Love Heals Family Problems," at 3 p.m. April 14 at The Christian Science Church, 260 Delmar Ave. Hoerner will discuss how family difficulties, as well as all human relationship problems, can be solved through the power of God's divine love. She will illustrate through verified healing experiences, how understanding the Bible in a more spiritual light can bring solutions to home problems—whether one is dealing with marital harmony, parent-child conflict, poor health. Hoerner is a wife and mother. Her work experience has included the secretarial, advertising, and public fields, as well as being a freelance artist and having greeting cards and several books published. Since 1980, she has been active in the healing ministry of Christian Science as a public practitioner, she is a member of The Christian Science Board of Lecturers.

Gussie Munsterman honored

St. Elizabeth Church was the scene of a birthday party given by the oldest parishioner, August Munsterman, 94, better known to many as "Gussie."

Gussie was born in Maries County, Mo., near Dixon. When she was about 18 years old she started working for a private telephone company. After they sold out she worked for U.S. Postal Service, then she worked for Veasman Hardware Company. When she was 24 years old she moved to Granite City. She worked for National Enameling Company as a telephone operator. She also worked for Commonwealth Steel for about a year.

She married Adam Munsterman Oct. 17, 1925, at St. Joseph Catholic Church. A few years later she and Adam moved to Mitchell. Gussie became postmistress, and Adam was the Village Board member for a few years. Adam then became postmaster at Nameoki for many years. Adam passed away in 1967.

Adam and Gussie were never blessed with any children but always shared hundreds of nieces and nephews. Gussie belonged to numerous charitable organizations after she came to Granite City. She was a member of St. Joseph's and St. Elizabeth's Altar Societies, World War I Ladies Auxiliary 34, Daughters of Union Veterans-Civil War #1090, American Legion Auxiliary 113, Charter member of Daughters of Isabella in Granite City.

Gussie hosted this party herself, a catered dinner for all who wished to celebrate with her. Her philosophy is to share a dinner with her beloved relatives and friends while she could respond, she said.

Evening Circle group meets

The Presbyterian Women's Evening Circle of First Presbyterian Church met March 19th in the home of Betty Rea in Granite City.

The meeting was opened with a Scripture reading followed by a report of the Presbyterian Women's newsletter.

Announcements—made of the Seafarers Brunch on April 7 at the church and "Music, Music, Music," which will be presented at Central Christian Church on April 14 at 2 p.m.

The Mission Yearbook of prayer was read by Betty Rea. The Fellowship of the Least Coin "Creations Hope for Glorious Freedom," written by Kazuko Hayashi, a voice from Japan, was given by Gladys Fuhrman.

Barbara Landis presented the lesson, "Empowered for Justice in Social Relationships." She stressed that concrete concern for the well-being of one's neighbor is an integral component of life in the covenant community.

Following the lesson, a selection by Miriam Therese Winter, entitled, "Take The Time," was read, followed by a discussion.

The meeting was closed as the group formed a circle and recited the Mizpah. A desert course was served by the hostess to those mentioned and June Jones, Florence Austin and Lulu Mills.

Guitar clinic set

Celebrated jazz guitarist and recording artist Pat Metheny will conduct a 90-minute guitar clinic at 4 p.m. Friday, April 12, in the Communications Building theater of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The clinic, sponsored by the SIUE department of music through its Jazz Studies Program, was made possible by funding from the University's Excellence in Undergraduate Education Fund.

Methodist women meet

The United Methodist Women of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church met in the church parlor for their March meeting. Shirley Lane opened the meeting with prayer. President Louise Nottolo conducted a short business meeting.

The Rev. Ralph Totten talked about the Lenten Season. Robbie McDaniel, Christian Personhood co-ordinator, was in charge of the program. Tables were arranged in the form of a cross with a "Crown of Thorns" at the top of the cross. All members attending sat around the edge of the cross. Members Ginny Wolfe, Shirley Lane, Louise Potillo, Mable Gertsch, Dolores Vogeler and Dorothy Davis all gave a short meaningful meditation as they were seated around the cross. Refreshments were snacks from Bible Days.

Each member hugged the person next to them and said "May the peace of God be with you" and that person answered "also with you." Totten closed the meeting with prayer.

The group will sponsor a Swiss steak dinner at the church from 4 to 7 p.m. on April 19. The cost for adults is $5.50 each with the fee for children up to 10 is $2.50 each. Carryouts will be available.

Ruth Class meets

The March 26 monthly meeting of the Ruth Class was held at Calvary Baptist Church. The table was decorated in an Easter theme. The meeting opened with prayer.

A devotional was given by Dorothy Watkins from the book of Matthew on "Blessings." Each lady was given a prayer rock with a Bible verse inside a plastic bunny egg by Mrs. Watkins.

The treasurer's report was given by Luella Propes. Phyllis Knight reported 15 Get Well and Thinking of You Cards were sent. A report was given by the group captains, Grace Cruse, Maureen Lewallen and Lorraine Thompson, on contacts made to class members. Group captains will meet at 1 p.m. April 2 at the church.

A revival will be held from April 14 to 17 and the class will furnish money for one meal for the revival team. Good Friday services for the Baptist denomination were held at 7 p.m. Desserts were served after the service in the Fellowship Hall. A trip was planned to Springfield on April 22. A Mother-Daughter Banquet will be held at the church May 16 catered by Petri's Catering and the menu was approved.

Refreshments were prepared by Pauline Weir. Rabbit candy favors were made by the class for shut-ins for Easter.

Those attending were Ruth Moser, Mary Hoover; Luella Propes, Grace Cruse, Lorraine Thompson, Phyllis Knight, Maureen Lewallen, Maxine Hoover, Pat Wallace, Pearl Dew, Elizabeth Phillips, Dorothy Watkins, Ruth Moser, Ruth Dagon and the teacher, Pauline Weir.

Agape May festival set

Agape '91, a weekend Christian music festival featuring rock and pop music and guest speakers, will take place May 3, 4 and 5, at the Bond County Fairgrounds in Greenville, Ill.

The event is sponsored by Greenville College, Scanlan Agency, Compassion, Shattingers, Coca-Cola and WCBW of St. Louis. Performers at the festival will include Petra, Charlie Peacock, Margaret Becker, Rich Mullins, Kim Boyce, Bryan Duncan, Whitecross, REZ, Sparks, Wes King and Randy Matthews. On Saturday, May 4, also performing will be Bride, XALT, Novella and Seriah.

Josh McDowell, author of "More Than a Carpenter" and "Why Warrant?" will speak and will be led by Dr. James Reinhard, professor of religion at Greenville College, and Mark Meyers, pastor of the United Methodist Church of Greenville. For ticket information call 618-664-1806, or write: Agape Productions, 315 E. College Ave., Greenville, Ill. 62246.

Women enjoy luncheon

The Presbyterian Women of First Presbyterian Church enjoyed a Guest Salad Luncheon on April 2, in the Fellowship Hall of the church.

Moderator Barbara Landis welcomed the members and guests and led the group in prayer.

A potluck luncheon was enjoyed at tables decorated with spring flowers. Esther Vasilloff, program coordinator, introduced the Rev. Joan Marshall, interim pastor of the church, who addressed the topic, "Women's Peace in the Presbyterian Church Today."

Virginia John presented the Year Book of Prayer. A short business meeting was held and reports given.

Lois Daniel gave a report on the Mother, Daughter, Friends banquet to be held at the church on May 14.

Members were reminded of the program "Music, Music, Music," which will be presented at Central Christian Church on April 14 at 2 p.m.

The meeting closed as the group formed a circle and repeated the Mizpah.

Members present beside those mentioned were Helen Toncoff, Muriel Vethi, Gladys Fuhrman, Florence Woodward, Bernadine Cooley, Hannah Kleinschmidt, Millie Meek, Bess Henley, Maude Graham, and Lulu Mills and guests Vivienne Danco, Shirley Lane, Gladys Woker, Ollie Kendall, Minnie Wetzell, Doris Matthews and Helen Kammerian.

Ladies prepare for Bishop

President Nancy Norris presided at the March 26 meeting of St. Elizabeth Ladies Sodality. Forty-one members attended the meeting and a pantry shower for Sister Barbara. Reports were read various Lenten activities held, including the Palm Sunday Bake Sale.

Preparations are being made for the visit by Bishop Daniel Ryan on Confirmation Day, April 20. Plans discussed included Ladies Communion Breakfast on May 19 and the annual Fall Festival to be held Oct. 19.

Prizes awarded went to: Attendance — Mabel Logan; Quilt of the Month — Freda Hicks; Madonna — Irene Davis; and Pot of Gold — Joyce Mills.

April refreshments will be served by Dee Scaturro, Catherine Ponce, Sharon Loftus, Phyllis Brusatti and the Rev. Don Wolford.

Swiss steak dinner slated

Niedringhaus United Methodist Church will serve a Swiss Steak dinner on April 19 at the church, 202 S. Street and Delmar Avenue, across the street from the Granite City Public Library. The menu will be Swiss steak, baked potato, green beans, salad, roll, dessert and drink.

The cost will be $5.50 for adults and $2.50 for children 5 to 10. Serving hours will be from 4 to 7 p.m. Carryouts will be available. The event will be sponsored by the United Methodist Women. Advanced tickets may be purchased at the church office.

The next meeting of the St. Elizabeth Medical Center Mastectomy Support Group will be held on Wednesday, April 10, at 7 p.m. in Pascal Hall, on the ground floor of St. Elizabeth Medical Center, 2100 Madison Ave., in Granite City.

Finding a swimsuit sometimes can be a frustrating experience. This meeting will feature a fashion show previewing many new summer swimsuit styles. Medical West Breast Prosthesis Center will provide the suits, along with matching cover-ups and accessories. They will also be introducing a completely new breast form, the Amoena Nouvelle.

Everyone in attendance will be registered to win one of three prizes.

The Mastectomy Club is designed to provide fellowship and information to women who share the common experience of breast cancer. It is open to anyone who has been diagnosed as having breast cancer.

Parking is available in the garage or the parking lot located on Washington Avenue, at the front entrance of the medical center. For more information, call 798-3582.

Seniors play games

Gertrude Boskay, president of the Granite City Council of Seniors, welcomed 141 members to an evening of games held on March 25 at the Township Hall, 2060 Delmar Ave.

Refreshments were served after vice president Rose Juhasz lead the prayer and pledge to the flag. Secretary Lorraine Melloy read notes from the previous month and the Treasurer Irma Manning gave the financial report.

Boskay gave information on the trees the council purchased for planting at Wilson Park. A commemorative engraved stone will be placed with the trees.

During intermissions, 50/50 and attendance prizes were awarded. Six birthdays and one anniversary were acknowledged.

Steve Kozar was host for the playing of games.

Free skin cancer screening set

St. Elizabeth Medical Center, 2100 Madison Ave., in Granite City, is offering a free skin cancer screening to encourage area residents to have suspicious areas examined by a physician. The screening will be held Saturday, April 13, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., in Pascal Hall, on the ground floor of the medical center. The screening is sponsored by the SEMC medical staff and Cancer Program.

Plastic surgeons and general surgeons on staff at the medical center will be performing the screening examinations. Screening participants can have the SEMC plastic and general surgeons examine any suspicious areas. The examinations will be done privately in the Industrial Medicine Clinic. Participants are encouraged to wear loose fitting clothing. Further information and educational material will be available at the screening.

Free parking will be available in the covered garage on 21st Street.

Appointments are recommended but not required. Individuals without appointments will be seen when a doctor is available, on a first-come, first-served basis.

For more information or to make an appointment, call SEMC's Education Resources Department at 798-3201.

Young Authors Conference set for April 27

The first annual Madison County Young Authors Conference will be held on Saturday, April 27, at Webster School in Collinsville. This will be a first-ever event for young authors in Madison County and will provide an additional level of participation between the local school district and the state level Young Authors Conference.

The Granite City School District will be represented by 59 Regional Young Authors representatives who were selected by a panel of 46 reader judges composed of students, teachers and parents.

One Regional Young Authors representative is selected for each 100 students enrolled in grades K-6. At the Regional Conference, students will meet with Robert Crowe, featured speaker, who is a noted Illinois author of books for young people. There will be morning and afternoon group sessions where students will share their manuscripts with each other.

Group leaders will interact with students in these sessions and lead them in creative activities. Lunch is provided for the students. The opening session will include remarks by John Renfro, superintendent, Collinsville School District; Harry A. Briggs, regional superintendent, Madison County; Nancy Graves, Collinsville teacher who is serving as chairman of the regional; and Nancy Krchniak, conference coordinator, assistant regional superintendent.

Teachers from the Granite City School District who will serve as group session leaders are: Phyllis Talley, third grade, Parkview; Mary Morgan, fifth grade, Parkview; Barbara Varadian, sixth grade, Parkview; Karen Cooper, language arts teacher, Grigsby Junior High;

and Edward Schroeder, language arts department head, Coolidge Junior High.

Regional Young Authors representatives for 1990-91 are:

Coolidge: Andrya Christina Malone.

SKIN CANCER SCREENING

Over 500,000 new cases of skin cancer are reported every year, making it the most common form of human cancer. Fortunately, however, skin cancer is one of the most treatable and curable forms of cancer provided it's discovered early.

The Program:

Memorial Hospital Skin Cancer Screening Program is an outpatient service designed to help you detect pre-cancerous and/or cancerous skin lesions. Skin cancerous lesions occur most frequently on exposed skin surfaces, such as the head, arms and legs.

Memorial Hospital's Skin Cancer Screening physicians are members of Memorial's Medical Staff who are volunteering their services for this screening - will examine the head, arms and legs for suspicious skin lesions. Any other areas of concern will be examined at the patient's request.

Screenings are conducted by appointment only. If you are on a regular time schedule, please understand there may be a brief wait before being seen by the physician.

Date, Time, Place:

Screenings will be conducted on Tuesday, April 23 and Thursday, April 25, 1991 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Memorial's Physical Therapy Department Information: To schedule an appointment, call the Physical Therapy Department at 233-7750, extension 5250.

The Skin Cancer Screening is being conducted as a free, community service by volunteer Plastic Surgeons and Dermatologists from Memorial Hospital's Medical Staff by Memorial Group, Inc. and Memorial Foundation, Inc. on behalf of Memorial Hospital.

AMERICAN HOME WEEK APRIL 14-20

From The Garden

Proper bulb care brings beautiful results year after year

By Steven Cline

Hardy spring bulbs are some of the most colorful plants in the garden and among the earliest to flower. The season usually begins in February with snowdrops and winter aconites, crocuses, scillas, chionodoxas, and daffodils follow in March; hyacinths and tulips come in April. Our warm spring temperatures moved the bloom period up this year and it was spectacular. As the displays begin to fade, you need to plan for their care to ensure a beautiful show next season. Here's what to do.

The growth between now and when the foliage yellows in early to mid-summer determines the potential for next season's flower crop. This is the time when the flower buds develop and new offsets grow to size, so add some nutrients to support bulb growth. This can be done by broadcasting a granular fertilizer like 5-10-5 or 5-10-10 at the rate of two pounds per 100 square feet across the bed. If your plantings are scattered, this works out to about one to two tablespoons per plant sprinkled around the clump. Use the higher rate for older and larger clumps.

Removing the seed pods after the flowers fade will have a positive effect upon new bulb formation and bud set. This is especially true of daffodils and tulips. Failure to do this will result in smaller bulbs because the seed pods will continue to develop and set seed. This requires energy reserves which otherwise would go into bulb growth.

Then there always is the question of what to do with the foliage. The temptation for many is to bunch the leaves with a rubber band or string into a nice tidy bundle. Alternatively, some people will cut the foliage back to the ground. Both of these practices will reduce bulb development and flower formation next season if done too early. Instead, allow the foliage to sprawl out and collect as much sunlight as possible. Generally, tulips can be cut back in mid-June; wait a month longer for daffodils. Cut the leaves back to the ground level and compost the leaf material.

Most bulbs flower very well in the first year regardless of where they are planted, because the storage reserves are already in place for the first year's growth. The second year will reflect the new planting site conditions. If flower production is poor in subsequent years, this may be due to age. Clumps that have become overgrown will produce small flowers and stems because of crowding. Tulips fit this pattern more so than daffodils.

It is wise to divide tulip plants every three to four years. If you have noticed a real decline in tulip flowers, it may be better to discard them and start over because they have a tendency to be less showy after the first two years of growth. Daffodils often can go many years without much concern.

In either case, divide the clumps any time after the foliage has turned yellow. If you replant, take the time to improve the bed by adding organic matter such as leaf compost or aged manure at the rate of two to three bushels per 100 square feet. This should be tilled or worked into the soil to a depth of about 8 inches, along with one pound of complete fertilizer. Bulbs set in this way will begin to develop a new root system through the summer, fall and winter. If you are not ready to prepare the bed immediately, the bulbs can be lifted and air dried in a cool place like a garage or basement area until fall planting, preferably prior to Nov. 1. That's all there is to it.

Dr. Steven Cline is manager of the Center for Home Gardening at the Missouri Botanical Garden.

Modify home for safety

For children 1 to 4 years old, home falls are the fifth leading cause of accidental death in America.

The following tips from the National Safety Council can help you rid your home of some of the fall hazards:

• Secure area rugs.

Especially on wood, ceramic tile and linoleum floors, area rugs that are not secured can cause anyone to slip up, adults as well as children. Secure them with a piece of foam carpet backing, double-sided tape or a rubber pad, available at many carpet and department stores.

• Make high climbs more work than they are worth.

For the budding mountain climber in your family, counter-tops, toy-boxes, chests of drawers and bookcases can be very inviting. You can't stop kids from wanting to climb, but you can make the trek less rewarding—by hiding the goodies—and more difficult—by moving anything, like stools and low furniture, that may aid the climber.

• Keep an eye on the kids.

It's no surprise that unsupervised horseplay is responsible for a great number of falls in the home. Although it's impossible to watch children every second, remember that it only takes a second for trouble to happen. Be alert.

• Keep stairs clear.

With their boundless energy, children must spend as much time running up and down stairs as they do going in and out the back door. As it is, stairs are involved in a large percentage of home falls. To guard against having to take an emergency trip to the hospital, keep your stairs clear.

• Don't put beds or other furniture in front of windows.

That same endless energy that sends kids running up and down the stairs also makes them love to jump on beds and climb on furniture. For their safety and your own peace of mind, move all furniture away from your windows.

• Keep the top of the stairs clear and protected, too.

Young children, especially preschoolers, haven't yet developed a healthy respect for heights or a working knowledge of stairs. Don't make them learn the hard way. Keep furniture from collecting along the top railing and consider installing a restraining gate at the head of the stairs.

• Don't let children lean on the insect screens.

Keep children away from open windows. Remember, an insect screen cannot keep a child from falling out of a window. Screens are intended to keep insects out, not children in.

• Keep doors closed to balconies, decks and fire escapes.

Since places like these can become more accessible in the summer months, they are a real invitation for youthful roughhousing. Kids will be kids. Close the doors and help them reach adulthood.

• Keep furniture away from the edge of balconies.

• Always use a rubber mat or slip-resistant stickers in the bathtub. Also, never leave a child unattended in the tub. Should they slip and fall, they may not be able to cry for help.

Dangers that are obvious to adults are not necessarily that apparent to children. They need extra guidance and an ever-vigilant eye. By following these simple suggestions, you can make your home a safer and more secure place for everyone.
